Health, Safety and Environment excellence, presents one of the biggest Optimum Choice Management Team challenges we face and success in this respect is a reliable indicator of how well we are managing our business as a whole.

Success requires leadership, uncompromising commitment and a structured methodical approach. Above all it requires a genuine sense of responsibility for our employees, contract partners, participants and those responsible for Government oversight.

Optimum Choice management shall meet this commitment and responsibility by:

- Fully supporting the requirements of this Health, Safety and Environmental, policy;
- Establishing risk based HSE Management Systems for all activities;
- Demonstrating compliance through a system of monitoring and audit;
- Demonstrating our commitment to continual improvement in this specialised and essential area.

This documentation provides guidance to enable Optimum Choice to derive fit for purpose, risk-based Management Systems from the approved set of plans, policies and procedures. It is based on existing NDIS / OHS requirements, Laws, Regulations and recognised work practices, extended where appropriate to reflect best Industry Practice.

The benefits include:

- A formal, logical and structured approach to derive and implement, “fit for purpose”, management systems to attain an Incident and Injury Free workplace;
- A greater consistency of approach across all the Optimum Choice assets;
- Improved management understanding of responsibilities and controls;
- Improved assurance that asset HSE performance is effectively benchmarked and monitored;
- Transparent and professional care provided to all our participants

Optimum Choice Management fully support this management system initiative. It is the responsibility of all personnel conducting work on behalf of Optimum Choice to ensure that they are aware of these management system requirements and appropriately and effectively comply with them.
